1. Einführung

Hiermit möchte ich über die Ergebnisse der 23. unserer Sammelreisen berichten, die überwiegend oder ausschließlich der Zuarbeit zur Flora Hellenica dienen. Sämtliche Reisen bis auf die Sammelreise 2008 haben wir ausschließlich selbst finanziert.

Die im Jahr 2009 gesammelten Pflanzen sind jetzt alle montiert, bestimmt (einige nur bis zur Gattungsebene), etikettiert, in die Accessdatenbank eingegeben, als solche auch verfügbar und sämtlichst ab sofort im Botanischen Museum Berlin-Dahlem einzusehen.

Nachdem wir in den letzten Jahren Kilikis, Serres und Thessaloniki mit ihrem zum Teil intensiver landwirtschaftlich genutzten Flach- und Hügelland besucht hatten, waren diesmal die intensiv landwirtschaftlich genutzten Ebenen östlich des Vermion-Gebirges und südlich der Gebirge Lailias, Menikion und Falakron in Serres und Drama bis nach Kavalla unser Ziel. Abstecher in das angrenzende Hügelland – ebenfalls mehr oder weniger landwirtschaftlich genutzt – rundeten das Bild ab. Diese Region ist gemäß den Verbreitungskarten in den ersten beiden Bänden der Flora Hellenica stark vernachlässigt worden. Dies wohl besonders deswegen, weil in den landwirtschaftlich genutzten Ebenen und Hügelländern kaum spektakuläre, veröffentlichungsrelevante Pflanzen zu erwarten sind. Also die richtige Region für blümchensammelnde Amateure.

Die Sammelzeit im Jahr 2009 dauerte vom 23. März bis zum 2. Mai. Die Fundstellen sind Fig. 1 und Fig.2 zu entnehmen.

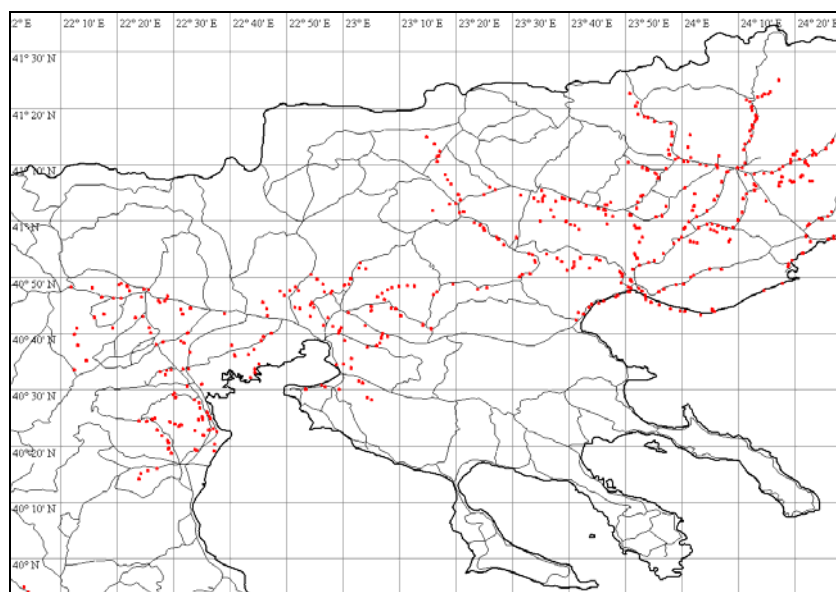

Fig.2: In 2009 besuchte Fundstellen

In welchem Ausmaß wir uns auf die tieferen und mittleren Höhenlagen konzentriert haben, zeigt Fig. 2 (Anzahl der Fundpunkte je 100 m Höhenverbreitung). Danach lagen 47 % aller Fundpunkte unter 100 m Höhe und 90 % unter 500 m Höhe. Entsprechen wurden 46 % aller Pflanzen unter 100 m Höhe und 92 % unter 500 m Höhe gesammelt.

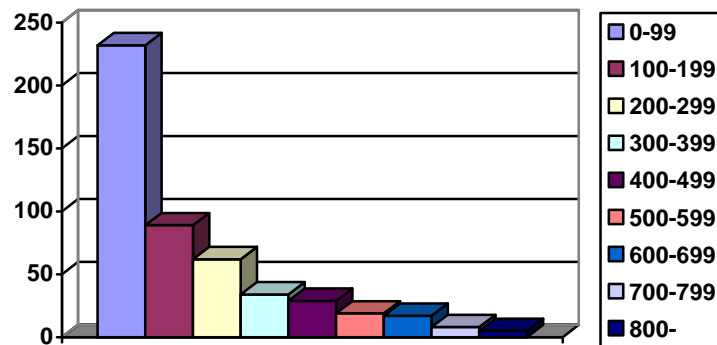

Fig. 3: Höhenverbreitung der Fundorte (Zahl der Fundorte je 100 m Höhe über NN)

Bei Ankunft in Igoumenitsa waren selbst die küstennahen Hügelketten schneebedeckt, ab den Ori Souliou waren alle Berge bis unter 1000 m Höhe von einer dicken Schneedecke bedeckt. Wie Einheimische berichteten, war es im Januar zeitweise sehr warm, ab Februar wurde es kalt und schneereich.

Als Ergebnis des späten Winters und des auch noch Ende März/Mitte April relativ schlechten Wetters waren die beobachteten Arten in ihrer Blüte 2-4 Wochen gegenüber den letzten Jahren zurück, und erschienen manche Regionen etwas artenarm. Dieses Bild veränderte sich erst in Drama und Kavalla, wo sich der späte Winter offensichtlich weniger stark auswirkte.

Die wetterbedingte "Artenarmut" zeigt sich auch in der Zahl der gefundenen bzw. gesammelten Arten je Fundort. An 67 % der Fundorte sammelten wir weniger als 30 Arten, an 82 % weniger als 40 Arten. Fundorte mit mehr als 50 Arten lagen überwiegend in Drama, Serres und Kavalla.

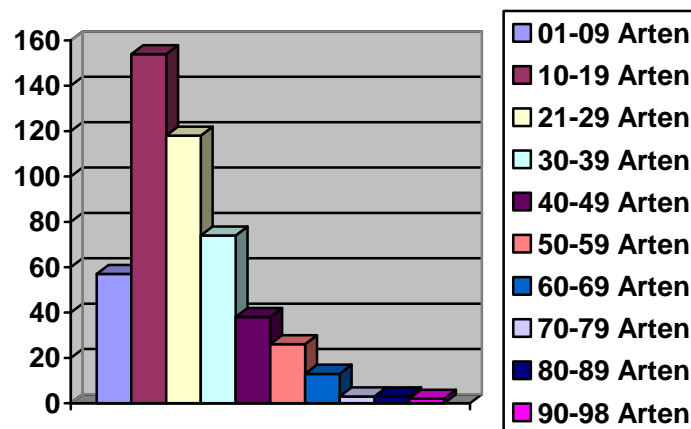

Fig. 4: Anzahl der Fundorte in Abhängigkeit von Zahl der gesammelten Arten je Fundort

Unsere 2009er Aufsammlung wirkt insgesamt ziemlich homogen, fast etwas langweilig und enthält deutlich weniger Arten als in "normalen" Jahren. Der späte Winter zeigte aber auch eine positive Seite. Wir fanden in den ersten drei Wochen deutlich mehr frühblühende Arten, vor allem auf landwirtschaftlich genutzten Flächen; viele dieser Arten waren ab Mitte April in gleichen Biotopen und in gleicher Höhenlage nicht einmal mehr in abgeblühter Form zu erkennen. Um ein einigermaßen repräsentatives Bild der Region zu erhalten, sind mindestens weitere Besuche in den Monaten Mai-Juli und September/Oktober zwingend erforderlich.

Wie in den vergangenen Jahren planten wir die täglichen Sammlungen auf der Grundlage von 10 x 10 km UTM-Feldern. Innerhalb dieser Felder suchten wir typische landschaftliche Gebiete und Biotope aus, in denen wir alle blühenden und fruchtenden Arten sammelten. In Folgeflächen des gleichen UTM-Feldes versuchten wir, bereits gesammelte Arten nicht zu wiederholen. Dies ist uns in den ersten zehn Tagen in den landwirtschaftlichen Ebenen südlich von Giannitsa eher nicht gelungen, hier haben wir streckenweise in 5 x 5 km-Feldern gesammelt. Dadurch sind einige Arten wie z.B. Capsella bursa-pastoris oder Arabidopsis thaliana etwas überrepräsentiert. Dies wollen wir in den kommenden Reisen strikt vermeiden (siehe weiter unten). Alle Pflanzen sind von Rita und Eckhard Willing gesammelt und von der Einlegespezialistin Rita Willing eingelegt.

Wir benutzten wie immer 6 Pflanzenpressen, jede von ihnen für 50-55 Pflanzen. Die tägliche Kapazität betrug damit 300-330 Pflanzen. In Unterschied zu früheren Jahren haben wir uns daran gewöhnt, konsequent Wellpappen C-line (3,2-3,9 mm) and B-line (2,2-3,0 mm) im Wechsel 1 : 1 zu benutzen. Dies gibt nicht nur hervorragende Trockenergebnisse, sondern ermöglicht auch, bei sehr großem Pflanzenangebot bis zu 12 Pflanzen je Presse jeweils zu zweit zwischen zwei Wellpappen zu legen. Wenn die Trockenergebnisse am Morgen gut sind, empfiehlt es sich, im gesamten Pflanzenpaket jeweils 2-3 Pflanzen zwischen zwei Wellpappen zu legen.

Die Trockenergebnisse sind auch nach verregneten oder regnerischen Tagen kaum schlechter, nur dass man vielen Pflanzen die anhaftende Erde ansieht. Nach 24 Stunden Trocknung sind normalerweise alle Pflanzen trocken, gelegentlich können 5-10 Pflanzen eine gewisse Restfeuchte zeigen.

Alle Pflanzen werden von mir selber montiert, so weit wie möglich bestimmt und etikettiert. Die Etiketten haben folgende Informationen:

Sheet-No.:
Family:
Species:
State, Nomos, Locality, Date
Biotope, Altitude
Short-cut of Locality, UTM, Greenwich

Ich bemühe mich, die von uns gesammelten Pflanzen so weit wie möglich selber zu bestimmen. Dies bedingt einen ständigen Lernprozess, führt mich aber bei einigen Gattungen zwangsläufig an meine fachlichen Grenzen. Zur Verständigung meines Artverständnisses und zur steten Verbesserung der Bestimmungsergebnisse bin ich auf autorisiert bestimmte bzw. revidierte Bögen angewiesen. Ich bin daher allen Fachkollegen dankbar, wenn sie die von uns gesammelten Pflanzenbelege überprüfen und uns auf Bestimmungsfehler hinweisen.

Alle Bestimmungsergebnisse werden in eine jährliche Access-Datenbank eingetragen und danach in die zentrale Datenbank Hellas.mdb übertragen. Diese zentrale Datenbank liegt dem Botanischen Museum Berlin-Dahlem vor und kann für wissenschaftliche Auswertungen genutzt werden.

Wir werden des öfteren gefragt, wer unsere Sammelreisen und die Bearbeitung der gesammelten Pflanzen finanziert. Für die Sammelreise 2008 haben wir dankenswerterweise einen finanziellen Zuschuss von der Mattfeld-Quadbeck-Stiftung erhalten. Alle anderen Sammelreisen haben wir selber finanziert.

Wenn wir die letzten 15 Jahre als Hilfslieferanten für die Flora Hellenica betrachten, dann fallen uns positive Aspekte, aber auch Schwächen und Fehler auf:

- Wir suchen uns bewusst Sammelgebiete aus, die von den Fachkollegen weniger intensiv besucht werden. Damit finden wir automatisch weniger Besonderheiten und vor allem weniger Endemiten, leisten aber vielleicht einen etwas größeren Beitrag zur vertikalen und horizontalen Verbreitung der "normalen" Arten und zum Erscheinungsbild der Arten in Abhängigkeit von den Standortbedingungen.
- Wir besuchen die Regionen nicht nur in den Zeiten größter Artenvielfalt, sondern auch bewusst in den Monaten März/April und September/Okttober. Bereits aus den ersten beiden Bänden der Flora Hellenica wird deutlich, dass typische Arten dieser Blühzeiten dort oft unterrepräsentiert sind. Die Verbreitungskarten zeigen oft weniger die tatsächliche Verbreitung der Arten als vielmehr den Grad der regionalen Untersuchung.
- Speziell bei unseren Sammelreisen im März/April finden wir sehr oft Pflanzen, deren wichtige Bestimmungsmerkmale noch unzureichend ausgeprägt sind (Beispiel Anthemis, Valerianella). Hier stellt sich immer wieder die Frage: stehenlassen oder mitnehmen? Wir entscheiden uns oft – vielleicht zu oft – für mitnehmen. Bisher sind wir stets ermuntert worden, dies beizubehalten. Kommentare auf den Herbarbögen, wie "collected too early" müssen wir in Kauf nehmen.
- Wir bemühen uns, in den ausgewählten 10 x 10 km-Feldern jede Art nur einmal zu sammeln. Ausnahmen sind selbstverständlich Gattungen wie zum Beispiel Taraxacum. Aus unterschiedlichen Gründen weichen wir manchmal hiervon ab, sammeln eher in 5 x 5 km-Feldern und manche Arten unverhältnismäßig oft. Dies wollen wir im Jahr 2010 erstmals systematisch ändern. Ausgewählte, taxonomisch klare Arten werden wir an einem Tag höchstens einmal sammeln. Wenn wir sie an folgenden Fundorten antreffen, werden wir sie registrieren und ohne Herbarbeleg in die Datenbank eingeben. Mit dem ersten Tagesbeleg machen wir deutlich, was wir unter dem Artnamen verstehen, vermeiden aber unnötige, das Herbarium im Botanischen Museum Berlin-Dahlem belastende Dubletten. Für das Jahr 2010 planen wir eine sechswöchige Reise nach Bötien, vor allem in die böotische Ebene, und nach Euböa. Diese Region hatten wir ursprünglich bereits für 2009 vorgesehen, hatten den Plan aber aufgegeben, da wir den Eindruck hatten, dass Euböa relativ gut untersucht wäre. Auf mehrfachen Wunsch von Bearbeitern der Flora Hellenica ziehen wir diese Region anderen Planungen vor.

Für die Jahre 2011 und 2012 sind mehrwöchige Reisen in den Monaten Juni-Juli geplant:

- Die zentrale Peloponnes südlich Erimanthos, Ziria und Chelmos westlich am Menalon vorbei bis Megalopolis und Tripolis. Die hohen Berglagen sollen bewusst ausgespart werden, da sie wohl gut untersucht sind. (Eigentlich für 2010 vorgesehen)
- Ausgewählte Gebiete vom nördlichen und östlichen Zentral-Griechenland, speziell in den Präfekturen Grevena, Kozanis, Karditsa und Larisa.
- Ausgewählte Gebiete in den mittleren Lagen des Süd-Pindus bis in eine Höhe von 1500 m.

Zusätzlich planen wir eine Herbstreise, deren Zielgebiet aber noch nicht ausgesucht ist.

Anregungen für Zielgebiete, aber auch für besonders zu berücksichtigende Gattungen und Arten nehmen wir gerne auf. Wir wollen aber auch in den kommenden Jahren uns auf weniger untersuchte

Regionen des Festlandes beziehungsweise weniger untersuchte Blühzeiten konzentrieren. Die Vervollständigung von Artenlisten im Bereich der Inseln liegt weniger in unserem Interesse. Mehr aus Lust würden wir allerdings gerne die Ionischen Inseln in die Planung aufnehmen.

Papaver rhoeas var. ? (→ Papaver lacerum ?)

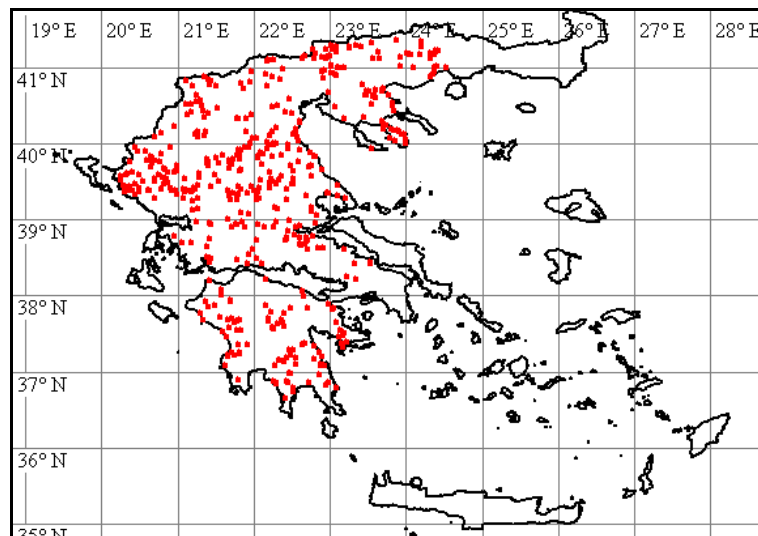

Die ausschließlich in küstennahen Biotopen Kavallas und Thessalonikis gefundenen Pflanzen scheinen mir in den Bereich von Papaver rhoeas zu gehören. Sie besitzen aber kleinere Petalen mit fast schwarzen Basisflecken und die Kapseldeckel sind fast flach. Die Pflanzen erinnern mich nach Abbildungen an Papaver lacerum. Die Belege befinden sich zur Klärung im Botanischen Museum Berlin-Dahlem.

F.Selvi (Firenze) hat im Herbst 2009 unter anderem unsere Belege der Gattungen Anchusa, Cynoglossum und Nonea kritisch durchgesehen und musste dabei leider zahlreiche Korrekturen vornehmen. Wir sind ihm dafür sehr dankbar, da seine Korrekturen uns sehr helfen, unser zum Teil schwaches Artenverständnis zu verbessern und damit in Zukunft noch gezielter zu sammeln und besser zu bestimmen. Für die ihm durch unsere Fehlbestimmungen entstandene Mühe müssen wir uns entschuldigen. Für Cynoglossum columnae, montanum, pustulatum subsp. parvifolium und Nonea pallens ergeben unsere eigenen Funde folgende Verbreitungsbilder.
